October 2015

Have we reached 'The Crowded Hour'?

The Kentucky Rough Riders focused on an important topic during our Oct. 20, 2015, meeting as Ed Cupp provided facts and theories in a presentation titled “Climate Change, Human Health and the Environment: Have We Reached ‘The Crowded Hour’?”

In defining “the crowded hour” as “a perilous period that requires clarity of thought, courage and action,” Ed shared information about how climate change has impacted not only the planet, but also its inhabitants.

The meeting was attended by 11 people who engaged in a challenging discussion after the presentation — which is what the Kentucky Rough Riders club is all about!

The Kentucky Rough Riders will host a special meeting strolling down Memory Lane. Do you remember the DDI, the Cardinal Drive-In, Anderson's the Regatta and Birdy's Breezy Bits ...? Have you ever given directions that sounded like “Turn right where the old Ben Franklin store used to be ...” Join us for a sentimental journey down Memory Lane as we show photographs and trade stories about people and places from our past. If you have photographs you would like to have included in this presentation, please email them to kyroughriders@gmail.com by Friday, Nov. 13.

No Meeting In December

The Kentucky Rough Riders invite you to spend this time with family and friends. Our regular meeting schedule will resume in January 2016 with an outstanding lineup of discussion and education topics.
